The Problem:

Runway Burn Without Direction

Startups burn through crucial runway building software without a validated commercial roadmap

The Cost of Building Blind

Results in bloated architectures, poor enterprise integration, and products B2B clients won't buy.

The High Cost of Leadership

Hiring a full-time, seasoned Chief Technology Officer (CTO) to navigate this phase is a massive capital drain

The Solution:

Commercial Bridge

Instead of building software without direction, we act as your commercial bridge. We separate the strategic architecture from the costly software buildout, ensuring every sprint is tied to a validated commercial roadmap.

"Build Right, Then Build Fast"

We stop bloated architecture by validating your data models, mapping enterprise integrations, and creating a strict "Ready for Build" blueprint before a single line of code is written. Your engineering budget is protected and spent optimally.

Executive Rigor, Fractionally

You gain the technical authority and oversight needed to manage external dev agencies, partners, and investors—without the massive, premature capital drain of a full-time executive hire.

Why Mark Treleaven?

Mark Treleaven brings over 4 decades of global expertise in distributed systems, bringing complex solutions to market, and building proven Web3 platforms. With a dozen live projects in the Market, he “gets it done”.

Mark's unique edge: Coming from the Corporate Consulting sector, running large (70+) dev teams and managing multimillion dollar budgets, Mark brings that rigor, wisdom and experience to your project and team.

When you hire Mark, you aren't just getting a technologist; you are getting a seasoned strategist who understands how to map technology to ecosystem value flows, ensuring your product is built for real-world enterprise adoption.

OUR ENGAGEMENT MODEL

We structure our fCTO engagements into highly focused, strategic sprints (typically an initial 3-month engagement) to deliver tangible, demonstrable value without the overhead of a full-time executive.

Prioritization Roadmapping

Aligning your technical capabilities with immediate business, client and investor goals.

Architecture Validation

Reviewing and formally validating raw data models and environmental edge-case logic.

Enterprise Integration Strategy

Mapping technical integration logic for ingestion and validation of ecosystem data (like ERP systems, Supply Chain).

Commercial Narrative Construction

Translating highly technical specs into a compelling "Value Flow" narrative that actually sells to investors and B2B clients. .

UI/UX Blueprinting

Overseeing the delivery of high-fidelity, clickable wireframes to make the product vision tangible.

Can also bring a Build Team

Phase 1: The Strategy Defence (Months 1-3)

The Goal: Protect your current tech investment and stop premature, undirected engineering.

The Deliverable: We prep you (the founder) to confidently answer the hardest questions from your Board, Investors, and Enterprise Clients.

Phase 2: Flexible Shift to Execution

The Goal: Transition from planning to building without losing momentum.

The Deliverable: You unlock the option to activate a fully integrated 1zero DevPod. Your vision is executed precisely by an engineering team led directly by your fCTO.

PRICING & INVESTMENT

Compensation is often structured as a cash-based advisory retainer to align with your current runway and precious cash flow. Flexible attention and reasonable costs.

Monthly Retainer

A flat fee of $2,500 USD per month.

This retainer provides

Executive Technical Representation

Architecture & Risk Validation

Commercial Prioritization Roadmapping

Dev Team Governance & Oversight

* Includes up to 16hrs of dedicated time. If deep execution support is required, an 'Advisory Tranche' with a fixed fee of $2,500 will be activated for dedicated attention.

Payment Terms :

* Invoices will be issued monthly.

Payment 1:

$2,500 USD is due upon signing to initiate Month 1.

Subsequent Payments:

Due every 30 days thereafter for the duration of the 3-month sprint (continuing automatically unless terminated).

Vision engineered. Revenue realized.

Faster than you thought possible, at a fraction of the cost and risk of hiring full-time or large firm consulting engagements.
